

COLLEGE FOOTBALL OFFICIATING, LLC

NCAA FOOTBALL RULES COMMITTEE

Delay in Implementation of Technology Change

The NCAA has announced a delay until the 2017 season in the implementation of football technology-related rules that were approved previously by the Football Rules Committee and the NCAA Playing Rules Oversight Panel (PROP) with an effective date of the 2016 season. This decision for the delay is in response to concerns raised by some conferences that indicated a desire for additional time to develop more specific guidelines. During a recent conference call, PROP approved the request from the Football Rules Committee to delay these rules until 2017.

Therefore, for the 2016 football season, Rule 1-4-11 as it appears in the 2015 rule book remains in effect.

Rogers Redding
Secretary-Rules Editor
April 12, 2016